SAN DOMINGO TREATY SIGNED.

Reciprocity Secured With Porto Rico.

The Czar Honors the French
Admiral.

San Domingo Treaty.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The President to-day issued a proclamation announcing a reciprocity with San Domingo under the act of last October, which, with a view to securing reciprocal trade, exempted from duty sugars, molasses, coffee and hides imported into the United States. By this treaty the following articles, manufactured in the United States will be admitted free of duty in the dominion republic after September 1, 1891: live animals, meats of all kinds, excepting smoked; various kinds of cereals and their flour; hay, plants and seeds, cotton seed oil and cake, coal, turpentine, etc.; mining, manufacturing and agricultural machinery, railway material and hardware of various sorts, zinc, lead, tin and copper in various forms; building and ship material, paper, printed matter, inks, etc.; gold and silver coin and bullion. A reduction of twenty-five per cent is secured on butter, tins, condensed milk, fresh fruits, cotton and cotton manufactures, boots and shoes, stationery, tin plate and tin ware for arts, cordage and wooden ware for household use.

The declaration closes with the promulgation of the acts, and is signed by the President and William A. Wharton, acting Secretary of State.

By Cable and Associated Press.
DUBLIN, August 1.—The Freeman's Journal renews its appeal to the warring factions of the Irish Parliamentary party to find means of promptly effecting a reconciliation "without ruthlessly throwing to the wolves the man whose leadership brought the cause to the threshold of success."

The National Press (McCarthyite) intimates there is a divergence of opinion among the directors of the Freeman's Journal as to the policy of O'Dwyer Gray, who it is understood, is now a thorough anti-Parrellite.

Chili Cruiser Sails.
By Cable and Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 1.—The new Balmainer war vessel, Errazuriz, sailed for Chili to-day, having apparently found her complement of men by some secret means. It is supposed that previous to leaving this port yesterday she made arrangements to take on board, outside the harbor, additional men and stores wanted, and for this purpose she anchored off shore shortly after leaving the river.

Bank of Rome Toppling.
By Cable and Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 1.—A special says there is considerable alarm in Rome over rumors of the impending closing of the bank of Rome. The bank is an old Catholic institution and it is said Pope Leo has advanced two million francs and thus avoided a threatened disaster.

Admires the Admiral.
By Cable and Associated Press.
ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 1.—The Czar has conferred the Grand Cordon of the Order of St. Anne upon Admiral Gervais, of the French squadron, and bestowed decorations upon thirty-two other officers of the French fleet.

War's Rumors.
By Cable and Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Journal Del Comercio to-day states it is reported that a congressional cruiser with torpedoes is cruising off the coast of Portugal, awaiting an opportunity to attack the President Errazuriz.

Spanish Reciprocity.
By Cable and Associated Press.
MADRID, August 1.—The Gazette to-day publishes a decree promulgating the new treaty between the United States and Spain in regard to trade between the United States and Porto Rico.

Weather Report.
Special to the Gazette.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Forecast, fair weather.

Decided to Contest the Law.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Over a score of prominent corporations throughout the States have so far refused to comply with the weekly pay law passed by the recent legislature and in nearly every case the employees are to bring a test case in the courts. The general argument advanced for non-compliance with the law is that in concerns which employ a great number of men the task of paying them is quite a labor, and that, were it done weekly, it would practically demoralize the steady routine of business. In many lines of business, however, the men work in crews and after every monthly pay day about one-third of each crew is demoralized for three or four days. Were this to occur weekly, many employers say it would practically force them into bankruptcy. In more than one case the employers have decided to carry the matter, if necessary, to the Supreme Court on the ground that as the law specially exempts railroad companies from its operation it is unconstitutional by reason of such discrimination.

The W. T. C. U. on the War Path.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—The feeling of indignation that was recently created in the ranks of the Women's Christian Temperance Association, from the fact that at the forthcoming Grand Army banquet at Detroit it is proposed to spend five thousand dollars for the liquors to be served at six hundred plates, does not seem to subside. Many leading temperance women have been quietly active, creating a sentiment against what they characterize as a debauch, and it is said that quite a number of Grand Army men, who will go from this city, have already promised their better halves that they will make themselves conspicuous by their absence from the banquet in question. It is not improbable that the temperance women will distribute some literature on the subject at Detroit next week, in which the Grand Army will be urged to bar out the whiskey drinkers and the politicians, and will ask that official action be taken by the encampment to prevent future gatherings being turned into monster debauches.

Supposed to Be Safe.

Special to the Gazette.
SAN FRANCISCO, August 1.—The San Diego dispatch giving the opinion of Captain Mannen of the ship Itata, to the effect that the Chilean ship Maipo had arrived at Iquique with a large quantity of arms and ammunition, instead of having been lost at sea, as at first reported, was received with great joy by merchants in this city in the Chilean trade. The Maipo is supposed to have secured her cargo at one of the South Sea islands, and that the guns and munitions of war were originally shipped on a German ship from one of the Australian ports, which afterward transferred the cargo to the Maipo.

The views expressed by a mercantile firm here favor the theory that the Maipo arrived at Iquique in safety. Previous dispatches stated the Maipo carried equipments for twenty-five thousand infantry and cavalry.

Great Guns.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Major General Schofield returned from the west last evening and was present to-day at a meeting of the Ordnance and Fortification Board. Plans for fortifications at the Atlantic and Pacific coasts were submitted, and also for a type of big guns. Bids for the construction of one hundred new guns were considered. General Schofield desires that the contracts be let to private manufacturers, so that the government may be more speedily equipped with the armament it needs so badly.

A Bishop Consecrated.

By Associated Press.
WINNIPEG, Aug. 1.—At St. Boniface Cathedral to-day the consecration of Rev. Elime Grouard as successor to the late Bishop Farand, Vicar Apostolic of the Althabasca-McKenzie diocese, occurred. Archbishop Tache officiated, assisted by Bishop Grandin of St. Albert and Bishop Shanley of Jamestown.

Well is a Well.

Special to the Gazette.
MERCED, Aug. 1.—A Spelling dispatch says a man known as French Joe, working with a harvesting crew at Olds & Barfield's ranch, fell into an old well 100 feet deep, breaking his neck. Joe is estimated to be worth $10,000; aged about 40 years and unmarried.

Debt Statement.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON (D. C.), Aug. 1.—The public debt statement issued this afternoon shows interest and non-interest bearing debt decreased $1,557,902 during the month of July. The aggregate amount of cash in the treasury is $754,794,855.

VALIANT VETERANS.

Thousands Marching on Detroit.

LONGSTREET DEFEATS TENNY.

Exciting Contest Witnessed
by Thousands.

The Northwest Has Bountiful
Harvests.

The Great Race.

MORRIS PARK, August 1.—"No man with sporting blood in his veins can afford to say he did not witness this race, and in years to come it will be something to tell one's grand-children of."

This is the way an admirer of horse-flesh spoke regarding the great Tenny-Longstreet match. The surging, jostling, pushing thousands assembled here to-day bear witness that there were plenty of sporting blood represented. Not only do they come from this vicinity, but from distant points, to see the battle for $12,500 and the championship of the turf, for Tenny and Longstreet are admittedly the best horses in training in America to-day. A more perfect day could not have been made. The warm sunshine was tempered with pleasant breezes, and the track was made perfect by unceasing work since yesterday.

There was very little choice on betting, but there seemed to be a slight leaning toward Tenny. Each found plenty of backers in the hotel and theater lobbies and clubs last night, and several wagers were made of $500 to $400 on Tenny. On the other hand, a Western man who had seen Longstreet perform at Jerome on Thursday bet $1,000 to $800 that he would be the first under the wire to-day. At the track this morning Tenny was slightly the favorite, with bookmakers' odds being, Tenny 3 to 5, Longstreet 4 to 5.

As the day wore on the eagerness became greater and betting spirited. Other events on the program, which would have been interesting on any other day, paled into insignificance, and but one thought seemed to possess the 25,000 people present. Frequent and anxious were the inquiries as to the condition of the flyers, and each inquiry was met by an assurance that they were fit to run for life. The inquiry also extended to the jockeys, and Hamilton, who will ride Longstreet, and Barnes, who will mount Tenny, were pronounced in condition and in keeping with the animals. Each jockey rode at 124 pounds.

When the third race was finished the crowd surged from the paddock to the bookmakers, eager to get a glimpse of the horses, and then back to their favorite. The gongs sounded for the struggle, and again the crowd surged to the best point of view, hanging over the railing that divides the betting ring from the track. All were excited and almost breathless to see the start.

The horses were led from the paddocks, the jockeys were weighed, and cantering back to position, the race, at 4:20 o'clock, was ready to begin. Longstreet wins by seven lengths. Time, 2:07 1/2.

Waterfall Weather.

By Cable and Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 1.—Dispatches from Foo Choo, China, state that rioting is imminent, and the town is wholly unprotected. Placards with notices, threatening foreigners, have been posted in public thoroughfares. It is reported that the building of Yen Ping in the province of Fo Kien has been attacked by a Chinese mob and several inmates killed.

G. A. R. Veterans.

By Associated Press.
BOSTON, Aug. 1.—The coming twenty-four hours will witness the passage through Vermont of an army of Union veterans from New England States en route to the National Encampment of the G. A. R. at Detroit. It will take nine special trains made up of fifty Wagner sleepers and also extra passenger coaches to carry the New England contingent.

Detroit (Mich.), Aug. 1.—The city is already elaborately decorated, for the twenty-fifth re-union of the G. A. R., with triumphal arches. The decoration of public buildings and business houses is excellent, in artistic beauty, variety and extent any similar preparations in honor of the veterans. The grand stands, too, and arrangements for medical and hospital services, camps and headquarters, are all complete and perfect in appointment. The Registration Committee have received notices from over three hundred regimental organizations, representing forty-five of the States and Territories, that they will be present, and quarters have already been assigned them. All branches of the service will be represented, and what is most uncommon, every one of the divisions in all the armies of the north will be represented. Five general camps have already been established and over 30,000 individuals assigned to accommodations. It is expected that by Monday evening over 40,000 veterans will have been provided for, while fully half as many more will be guests of the citizens.

Prudential Flour Company.

Special to the Gazette.
PORTLAND (Or.), Aug. 1.—A suit involving over $1,000,000 was begun to-day in the Circuit Court by J. Kieran et al. against the Portland Flouring Mills Co. and W. S. Ladd et al. The plaintiffs allege they were stockholders in the original corporation of the Portland Flouring Mills Co., which in 1883 became financially involved to W. S. Ladd & Co. and passed a resolution that W. S. Ladd, President and James Steel, Secretary, secure a purchaser for the property on which the mills stood as well as the mill. They allege that Ladd and Steel conveyed the property to a nephew of Ladd without any consideration and that Neal was simply Ladd's agent. Afterwards, it is claimed, W. S. Ladd, Wm. Ladd and C. A. Neal incorporated the new company, calling it the Portland Flouring Mills Co., and had the property conveyed to them by Neal.

The plaintiffs claim the entire transaction was fraudulent. They ask that the sale be set aside that they may recover the profits made by the new corporation.

The Spanish Verb.

Special to the Gazette.
SAN DIEGO, Aug. 1.—Captain Mannen of the Itata claims the Chilean ship, Maipo, which was reported as having foundered at Zaner, Iquique, with a large cargo of arms and ammunition, has, in reality, anchored in safety at the latter port. He says the report that the Maipo foundered, arose from a misinterpretation by a press reporter of the Spanish verb, "fondar." The meaning of "fondar" is "to anchor," but he claims the reporter translated it as meaning to founder.

THE San Francisco News Letter says: "Taylor has failed to get a legal judgment for his share of the legislative poodle, but he has not failed in securing a public judgment that he had as rascally a band associated with him at Sacramento as ever cut a throat or scuttled a ship. It was not to be expected that he would accomplish more than he did. Conspirators are not in the habit of giving themselves away. Their bad memories never permit them to remember facts that entail legal consequences. The things they forgot were in their very nature unforgettable, as the Court would have done well to have told them. But, however well they succeeded in bamboozling the Court, defying the law and cheating justice, they failed to obtain a popular verdict that they were innocent men. There is not a shadow of doubt that they started out to do business" at the beginning of the session, and that, before its end, they succeeded in doing it to the tune of some $100,000. The business that some twenty Senators did was a boodle business. They sold their votes for coin in hand duly paid, and they brought into the Legislature numerous cinching bills intended to extort money from certain interests to be let alone. Taylor says he was their agent, and practically proves he was by the nature of the secret he tells. His only merit is that he turned informer when cheated out of his agreed share of the boodle. He put witnesses on the stand who, by what they failed to remember, proved his case to the satisfaction of all reflecting men. Yet both parties will nominate such boddies again, and we will be found voting for one set or the other."

NEVADA people have much to be thankful for. In the first place they have the purest of atmospheres to breathe, whose health-giving qualities are unknown to the world at large; they have agricultural land that is as productive as any on the face of the earth; they have mines that contain uncounted millions of hidden wealth; they have water in abundance to irrigate every acre of tillable land within the borders of the Silver State. Her people are rich in everything that should go to make a commonwealth prosperous, and finally, when the awful hour comes to relinquish their grip on this dusty ball, they can be buried in a soil that will keep them together until Gabriel toots his horn and bids them arise to answer for themselves at the judgment seat of everlasting life. Truly the people of the battle-born State have much to be thankful for.

A GOOD many knowing ones think that John W. Mackey would like to represent this State in the United States Senate, and that he will shy his castor into the ring to satisfy his wife's ambition to become a leader in English society. If John should conclude to enter the contest, he would have a strong following among the politicians. But should the Comstock millionaire conclude to "run," the question most likely to be asked is "What has Mackey ever done for the State to entitle him to consideration of that importance?" And it might be answered by saying that he has done as much as Senators Jones or Stewart has ever done to bring us prosperity.

EVERY farmer in the State should prepare something to exhibit at the State Fair, and it is time now to begin to put live stock in fix to show. The GAZETTE will take pleasure in putting on exhibition anything sent it, and due credit will be given and the premium forwarded to any one who is given one.

SAN FRANCISCO's exports for the year ending June 30, 1891, were nearly 9 per cent greater than those of the previous year, and her imports were about 41-2 per cent greater. This does not look as though Republican policy were "paralyzing our business."

THE San Diego press is filled with fiendish glee because, when the Charleston was on Redondo beach, the sea was so rough that scarcely anybody could board the cruiser.

THE Los Angeles papers are busy apologizing for the hot spell

SERVILE IMITATORS.

According to Worth This Epithet May Be Applied to American Women.
There are no women in the world who think so much about dress or devote so much time to it as Americans. The result, however, writes Kate Field, is hardly commensurate with the expenditure of time and money. To think about dress does not necessarily involve what is necessarily called thought. When monkeys act like men we do not accuse them of thought. We attribute to them a wonderful power of imitation. In dress we are nothing but monkeys.

We have not yet acquired sufficient taste or knowledge to make our own fashions, so we wait for the modistes of Paris to tell us what they please and then adopt their ideas regardless of consequences. France is the most artistic nation in Europe, but we should take our France with discretion. What is suitable for one is not necessarily suitable for all, and it is well known that costumes prepared for the American market are "louder" in style than those intended for home customers.

American patrons are sought because they are willing to pay extravagant prices, but their judgment as a rule does not command respect. One day in Paris Worth talked to me most vehemently on this subject. He said women were fools to act like a flock of sheep; that he as an artist always consulted individual physique, but he found the greatest difficulty in making his clients wear what best suited them.

"Because I invent a beautiful costume for a young and graceful woman, should it be worn by a fat dowager? But the dowager will have it in spite of all entreaties. Nowadays there are no old women and very few middle-aged ones. As for fat women, they don't exist."

"I want to wear tight-fitting white goods, and beauties they look! If there is a color that displays crowsfeet and overhanging figures that need reefing it is white. But, goodness gracious! there's no use talking. I have given it up. To live in peace I must let obstinate women have their own way."

"People say I set the fashions. I don't. A clever actress studies her own peculiar style, appears in something admirably suited to it, and all the rest of your sex blindly copy her. It's really too dreadful, and I'm sorry to say your countrywomen are the greatest sinners in this respect, though some of you possess exquisite taste. When an American is thoroughly nice she is charming." There is no reason why, with training, all American women should not be "thoroughly nice" in dress.

HE MEANT WELL.

The Narrow Escape from Death of a Temperance Lecturer.

Some weeks ago, writes a Wisconsin correspondent of the Youth's Companion, a young temperance lecturer, in his travels from town to town, fell in with an Indian, who made signs for a ride. He was allowed to get into the buggy, and pretty soon it appeared that he was intoxicated.

The lecturer, who believed in being instant in season and out of season, began forthwith to labor with his passenger. He dwelt upon the disgrace and death which follow the use of liquors, and wound up by entreating him to forsake his cups.

The Indian did not understand a word of the exhortation, but judging the lecturer by himself, thought from his pleading eyes and earnest manner that he wanted a drink. Accordingly he drew a large black bottle from under his blanket and offered it to the white man.

The lecturer was elated. He had made a convert, he thought. He took the bottle and dashed it to the ground, where it flew into a thousand pieces.

The Indian could not have been angrier if his scalp had been threatened. He sprang from his seat with a tremendous war whoop, seized the white man by the arms, dragged him to the ground, beat him in the face, and was reaching for his knife, when the lecturer managed to break away and ran at his best speed for the next town, where his wounds were dressed.

According to his own version of the affair he meant well, but showed a lack of judgment.

SUCH IS LIFE.

STATISTICS prove that only one man in a million lives to be one hundred and eighty years old.

In Blanco, Ark., an evangelist named Maddox became so personal in his sermon that his hearers drove him out of the pulpit with stones, the deacons assisting.

A CHATTANOOGA dentist lost a valuable diamond ring the other day in a curious manner. He was examining the back teeth of a patient when the ring slipped down the latter's throat.

A FEW months ago there were fourteen persons at Carroll, Mo., who lived on friendly terms. Then an unknown relative in California died and left $70,000 to be divided between them. Now there are fourteen persons in Carroll who do not speak.

A COLUMBIAN (O.) miss of sixteen was recently legally possessed of three names within the space of twelve hours. She started in the morning with Ryder, then in order to marry she required a guardian who would consent to the ceremony, and a friend by the name of Osborn adopted her. After this the minister and lover stepped in and she became Mrs. Travenor.
